

Domaine Skouras

Labyrinth

ΛΑΒΥΡΙΝΘΟΣ LABYRINTH

MEGAS
OENOS
ΣΚΟΥΡΑΣ
DOMAINE SKOURAS

Domaine Skouras was established in 1986 by Dijon-trained winemaker George Skouras in Pyrgela, Argos, a quaint village nestled in the Nemea region of the Peloponnese. Skouras began working with both indigenous and international wine varieties and started producing very high-quality Greek wines in the late 1980s. The first bottling of his flagship wine, Megas Oenos, launched in 1988 and was the first wine in Greece to blend Aghiroghitiko with Cabernet Sauvignon. At over 3,400 feet, Skouras also boasts one of the highest red wine vineyards in Europe.

Domaine Skouras currently sources grapes from its own vineyards along with dedicated grape growers in the region and is at the forefront of Greek estates. Demand for these terroir-driven and estate-bottled wines is strong in both Greece and around the world.

Varietal Composition:
Classification:
Vineyard Location:
Vinification:

80% Agiorgitiko, 20% Cabernet Sauvignon

PGI Peloponnese

Gimno and Corinthia, 2,132 feet elevation

In a foudre of 1,000 liters, sequential vintages of Megas Oenos mature together. In 2001, this foudre was filled for the first time with the final blend of Megas Oenos 1999. Each year a specific amount is taken away and bottled and the foudre is filled with new wine.

Alcohol:
Total Acidity:
pH:

13.5%

6.2gr/l

3.45

Winemaker Notes:

Deep purple with terra-cotta hues. On the nose, it is mature, concentrated, dense and immensely complex. Aromas are focused on ripe red fruits along with spicy characteristics such as clove, cinnamon and black pepper. Fullbodied, smooth and silky with well-structured tannins and vivid acidity. Finish is elegant, powerful, exquisitely complex and quite lengthy.